AMICUS CURIAE

Amicus Curiae (a friend of the Court) is the official journal of both the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies, University of London and its Society for Advanced Legal Studies. Amicus Curiae aims to promote scholarship and research that involves academics, the legal profession and those involved in the administration of law. Amicus Curiae carries articles on a wide variety of topics including human rights, commercial law, white collar crime, law reform generally, and topical legal issues both inside and outside the UK. The print journal began publication in 1997 and is published 4 times a year by the Society for Advanced Legal Studies at the IALS.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1.1 General Information

Journal title*	<input type="text" value="Journal of Human Rights in the Commonwealth"/>
Journal initials*	<input type="text" value="JHRC"/>
Journal Abbreviation	<input type="text"/>
Print ISSN	<input type="text"/>
Online ISSN	<input type="text"/>
DOI Prefix	<input type="text"/>
DOI Suffix	<input type="radio"/> Use the pattern entered below to generate DOI suffixes. Use %j for journal initials, %v for the volume number, %i for the issue number, %a for the OJS article ID, and %p for the page number. <input type="text"/> For example, vol%viss%iapp%p could create a DOI such as 10.1234/vol3iss2pp230 <input checked="" type="radio"/> Use default pattern (%j.v%i%l.%a). <input type="radio"/> Use the "Custom Identifier" for published items as the DOI suffix (must be enabled in Step 4). A DOI suffix can take any form, but must be unique for each published item. If you change your DOI configuration, DOIs that have already been assigned will not be affected. Once the DOI configuration is saved, use this button to clear all existing DOIs so that the new settings will take effect with existing articles. <input type="button" value="Reassign DOIs"/>

3.4 For Authors to Index Their Work

OJS adheres to the Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting, which is the emerging standard for providing well-indexed access to electronic research resources on a global scale. The authors will use a similar template to provide metadata for their submission. The Journal Manager should select the categories for indexing and present authors with relevant examples to assist them in indexing their work, separating terms with a semi-colon (e.g., term1; term2). The entries should be introduced as examples by using "E.g.," or "For example,".

- Academic Discipline and Sub-Disciplines
Useful when journal crosses disciplinary boundaries and/or authors submit multidisciplinary items.
Provide examples of relevant academic disciplines for this journal:

(E.g., History; Education; Sociology; Psychology; Cultural Studies; Law)
- Subject Classification
Title
URL
(E.g., Mathematics Subject Classification; Library of Congress Classification)
- Keywords
Provide examples of keywords or topics as a guide for authors:

(E.g., Photosynthesis; Black Holes; Four-Color Map Problem; Bayesian Theory)
- Coverage
Refers to geo-spatial location, chronological or historical coverage, and/or characteristics of research sample.
Provide examples of relevant geo-spatial or geographical terms for this field:

Scepticism about OA

Your experiences

How can you reassure researchers about OA?

How can you best publicise and integrate a new journal?

How can you encourage commitment to a new journal project?

How can you offer an existing journal or society the best value?

How can an Open Journals Service expand and stay sustainable?
